The rules of the Watchpoint

by DpsMercy

Summary

This is a list of rules created by Winston, because common sense is apparently quite uncommon between overwatch agents.

Updates whenever i get more ideas.

Notes

This is my first try at anything like this.
If you have any ideas, comment.

Introduction.

This is a list of rules created by Winston, because common sense is apparently quite uncommon between overwatch agents.

1. Just because these rules are directed at field agents doesn't mean they aren't good ideas for everyone else as well.
2. No one is to have a contest to see who can cause more of these rules to be created. Anyone who sees this happening should report it instead of joining in.
3. These rules are for the benefit of the smooth running of this organization. They are not to be used as a 'bucket list'.
4. If you have to ask if something is allowed, you probably know the answer already.
5. Follow them at least once in a while.

Concerning current agents:

1. Some agents get away by calling each other stupid nicknames because they are close friends. Try it at your own risk.
2. Asking any female agent if it is 'that time of the month' is not a good idea.
3. Pissing off Hanzo will get you nothing but a Darwin award. Learn from Genji's experience. The only exception to this rule is McCree, who somehow seems to get out alive.
4. Do not mess with Ana's tea if you value your life.
5. Do not ask Ana if she was a pirate in her previous life. When you wake up alone on an island, we will not feel bad for you.
6. Ana is not allowed to sleep dart anyone who annoys her.
7. Ana is not to sleep dart me for implementing this rule.
8. Should you ever triple dog dare anyone to do anything, you will be held just as accountable for the resulting consequences.
9. Zenyatta might be mild-mannered, but it does not give you permission to be rude to him. He won't do anything, but Genji will.
10. Please do not taunt Fareeha with bird calls. You will not dodge whatever she throws back at you. If nothing is on hand, she uses rockets.

Concerning random sayings and excuses:

1. '[Agent name] dared me' is not a valid excuse.
2. 'For science!' is not a valid excuse.
3. 'For the vine' is not a valid excuse.
4. 'YOLO' is not an excuse. 'On va voir' either.
5. 'Bite me' is not an invitation.
6. 'Fuck me sideways' is not an invitation. If, on a rare occasion, it is, please not in public.
7. 'Pulled a Tracer' is not to be used as a synonym to doing something extremely fast, especially not on paperwork.
8. Chanting "She's beauty, she's grace, she'll punch you in the face" is banned. Those punches often arrive.
9. 'It's a bird, it's a plane- no, it's a bird' is not to be yelled at Fareeha.
10. Repeating other agent's catchphrases in a mocking voice will not earn you laughter, only pain.

Concerning Talon agents:

1. Stop letting Talon agents into the watchpoint! They are our enemies!
2. If you do not follow the previous rule: at least make sure you make they follow the watchpoint rules. Please.
3. Sombra is not allowed access to computers when she is angry. How did you even shut off so many government databases at once?
4. Sombra is not allowed to hack websites simply because the information is 'utter bullshit.'
5. Reaper is to stop shadow-stepping behind people to scare them, especially if said people are playing horror games or watching horror movies. The amount of bullet holes in the watchpoint walls is alarming.
6. Please do not follow Reaper around humming the Ghostbusters song. He doesn't like that at all.
7. Morrison, stop abandoning missions to go fuck Reyes.
8. Sombra, we do not need to know what you do with your girlfriend.
9. Stop trying to 'bring Amélie back'. Widowmaker does not like it and Angela is tired of picking bullets out of you.
10. Stop asking Widowmaker 'Are you feeling blue?' and variations of thereof.

Concerning public rooms:

1. The closed circuit TV cameras are of extremely good quality. We can clearly see who you are and who or what you are doing in the corridors.
2. That last rule was not to be taken as encouragement.
3. Whoever keeps putting up the “it’s been [...] days since the last incident” poster will stop now.
4. Restock the fridge if you empty it.
5. No food wars.
6. No cook-offs, as good as the results are, the mess is unbearable.
7. Hana is not allowed to cook after the infamous Spaghetti incident.
8. We all have collections of hilariously inappropriate shirts. Just do not wear them in public. Those concerned by this rule, you know who you are.
9. Stop raiding everyone’s rooms to build a giant pillow fort in the common room. Hana, why?
10. Training room D is meant for training, not fucking, no matter if the name then becomes a pun.

Concerning games and movie nights:

1. Someone is to always supervise any video game challenge Hana issues to Genji. Those two are way too competitive.
2. McCree is not allowed to play poker.
3. No blackmail is to be used to get the right to decide on the movie. I expected that from Genji or even Hanzo, but not you Angela.
4. Stop sending me Harambe memes. HOW DO YOU EVEN FIND THOSE RELICS?
5. The unofficial Meme competition has to stop NOW!
6. Please keep twister PG.
7. Please keep poker PG.
8. Please listen to rule 3 and 4 at least once in a while.
9. No more anti-gravity dodgeball tournaments. Zarya why?
10. No weapons at monopoly tournaments.

Concerning current agents part 2:

Chapter Notes

99 kudos in two days! Hurrah! You all made me so happy!

1. If Junkrat asks you to help test out his... anything, 'no' is both the prudent and physically beneficial answer.
2. Do not disturb Satya while she is working. She might seem calmer than most people, but she will rip you to shreds.
3. If Torbjörn has been in his workshop for over 48 hours, get him out. Refer to the microwave overlord incident as an example of what might happen otherwise.
4. Prank wars should be kept to the level that avoids property damage.
5. Stop trying to scare Bastion with explosions or machine gun fire sounds. It's cruel, most of you should know that.
6. When texting with each other, double-check that you have not hit 'reply all' or 'send to all'. Mental bleach has not yet been invented.
7. Sombra will stop hacking Genji to make him continuously punch himself in the face.
8. Sombra will stop hacking Satya's turrets to make them display hearts. It might seem cute, but do you know how many complaints she has filed? Too many!
9. ~~Sombra can do whatever she wants.~~
10. Sombra cannot hack this list to add her own rules!

Concerning current agents part 3:

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

1. Jack Morrison will stop faking he is not Jack but only Soldier:76. Everyone knows it's you, Jack. No disguise works when your ass is a rectangle.
2. Understand that the main food groups found in the kitchens are: ice cream, cup noodles, alcohol, and whatever Reinhardt cooks (and Doritos and Mountain Dew which you shouldn't touch without Hana's permission). You have legs, you can go to the store and get whatever you want instead of whining. And never complain to Angela. We don't need another two-hour-long 'a balanced diet is important' presentation.
3. Stop trying to bribe me with peanut butter. It is still appreciated, though.
4. No touching any of Lúcio's sound equipment, It's not worth it.
5. No reprogramming Athena to sound like Schwarzenegger.
6. McCree can no longer respond to 'can you give me hand?' by throwing his prosthetic at people.
7. Just accept any random gift of sticks or leaves or flowers Bastion gives you, they get very sad if you don't. They are just trying their best to be friendly.
8. Joking about Torbjörn being Bastion's best friend will get you nothing but a hammer to the knee if he overhears. Learn from McCree's experience.
9. Torbjörn asked me to put this here: do not call him: Torby, Turbo, Toblerone, Ternblr, Tumblr, Tjöbjön, Treble, Tôrbjœřň, and such. (However, you can call him that when he doesn't hear. I'm not really enforcing this rule.)
10. Torbjorn is not allowed to put up turrets in the doorways of people that have irked him.

Chapter End Notes

Has everyone read the Bastion comic? Bastion is so adorable, and Torb certainly earns the 'not as big of a jerk as you could have been' award.

Concerning the med-bay and healers:

1. Never do anything you don't want to have to explain to Angela. If she doesn't spill the details, someone else will.
2. Walking away from an explosion without looking might be considered 'cool', but it's not so cool to end up in the med-bay because you didn't see a piece of shrapnel flying right at you.
3. There is not a formal or informal competition to cause Angela to be so pissed off that she shoots someone. Fareeha will know.
4. If Angela is threatening to shoot you, back. away. slowly.
5. You cannot just 'walk it off' if you have broken bones.
6. Leaving AMA is not permitted. I'll send Ana to hunt you down.
7. Stop replacing Lúcio's music with country tunes. You made the guy cry three times already, and nobody needs to hear Cotton Eye Joe when they are getting bullets ripped out their leg.
8. Do not annoy Ana. Despite the fact that her rifle rounds are made to heal, they still hurt when they hit some unnamed places and despite missing an eye, she still has great aim.
9. Same with Zenyatta. A metal orb hitting your face at full speed is painful.
10. Nobody talks about the bonesaw incident.

Concerning weapons:

1. No 'glitterifying' weapons.
2. No 'glitterifying' armor.
3. If it includes glitter, assume it's not allowed.
4. Yes, we have a lot of very impressive 'toys'. Just use them wisely.
5. Stop trying to use Torbjörn's hammer as a normal one.
6. Don't try to use Reinhardt's hammer as a normal one. Most of you can't even lift it.
7. Replacing weapons with the Nerf equivalent is not permitted.
8. Replacing weapons with paintball look-alikes is not permitted.
9. Don't tell Junkrat to 'make Lena's or Fareeha's bombs work better because they are gonna love it'. They won't.
10. No 'upgrading' weapons or gear by yourselves. Lúcio's try resulted in many burst eardrums, Lena's made her disappear into the ether, I cannot count how many rules of physics and gravity Zarya broke, and I'm sure Gibraltar did not appreciate a snowstorm in summer, Mei.

Concerning pets:

1. McCree, stop bringing in dogs.
2. Genji, stop bringing in cats.
3. Hana, stop bringing in bunnies. They multiply.
4. Stop hiding Lúcio's pet frog. That's just cruel, to the frog and to Lúcio.
5. Stop trying to make Ganymede our mascot.
6. Stop buying the shimada dragons squeaky toys. Nobody needs to wake up from that hellish sound coming from the vents at 3 am.
7. If something shiny of yours disappears, first try to find the dragon's hoards and if it's not there, then blame whoever might have taken it.
8. Zarya and Mei are not allowed to have a pet polar bear. HOW DID YOU EVEN GET IT HERE?
9. McCree does not need a horse. He said so himself.
10. Hanzo, no wolves.

Concerning missions:

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

1. Under no circumstances should you ever utter the phrase ‘What’s the worst that could happen?’
2. Always keep Murphy’s Law in mind.
3. Reminder, WHICH SHOULD BE USELESS: stop abandoning missions to go fuck your Talon boyfriends/girlfriends.
4. When traveling long distances by car for an operation, standard road trip rules of thumb apply. Therefore, the driver picks the music, unless the driver is McCree.
5. Lena is not allowed to drive. It’s a speed limit, not a speed challenge.
6. Never yell ‘Do a barrel roll!’ when Lena is the pilot.
7. On the same note, there are safety belts in the planes for a reason. Use them.
8. Let’s never try the ‘switch weapons for one mission’ idea again.
9. You know what happens when there’s no healer? You die. Protect them, or I’m blaming you.
10. Get on the payload. Please.

Chapter End Notes

The number 9 is just me being salty. I’m always the designated healer, and that one Tracer or Genji everyone lets slip will just make my life a living hell while everyone watches me get killed and then spams ‘i need healing’ right after I do.

Concerning down time:

1. Shopping trips that end in twenty stops at the lingerie store are prohibited. Said lingerie is not to be put on and photographed for a 'Sexy calendar'. It sold out surprisingly quick before I could stop it. The question is, how drunk or high were you all?
2. Hide and seek is okay. Raising it to such level that I had to go all over the world to get you back for a mission is not. 'I'm in the Sahara' is not a good hint, Ana.
3. If you have to say 'I'm betting [...] that I get out alive.' Don't do whatever you're planning.
4. No more Risk. Ever. Who thought it a good idea to jump of increasingly tall building just to see if Fareeha can catch you at the last second?
5. No more Cards Against Humanity. I'm scarred for life.
6. Even if it's called 'communal kitchen', it does not mean you should drag people there at an ungodly hour and call it 'team building'.
7. Team building is not synonymous to getting black-out drunk together.
8. Ana is the only person capable of approving team-building exercises.
9. I am taking back my previous statement. Ana can no longer approve team-building exercises. I am disappointed in you, Ana.
10. Do not assist Hana in recreating any music videos or other forms of internet fads.

Concerning current agents part 4:

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

1. No calling Angela Doctor Barbie. She only follows the Hippocratic oath so far.
2. Athena is not your personal slave. Use google.
3. Nobody is to try to repeat the googly eye incident.
4. Stop calling Angela out on her hypocrisy. We all know how she tells us to get plenty of rest and eat healthily, all while she stays up for over 72 hours and mostly survives on coffee, chocolate and whatever booze I'm sure she must have in her table drawer. However, she is also the one trying to deal with all of you, so I don't blame her.
5. No screaming at Fareeha for 'cannibalism' when she eats an omelet or eggs. Pre-caffeinated Fareeha is scary.
6. Lena, stop rushing off to go see Emily every time we go to Britain.
7. Stop putting stickers all over Genji. However he does like the sparkly ones, so you can keep gluing on those.
8. Whoever made the 'hottest ass' and 'most badass muscles' rankings and posted them all over the internet will not do that again. Don't you remember that Overwatch is illegal and none of us should even be anywhere near each other?
9. Whoever bought those 30 king-sized bags of M&Ms will never do it again. I'm sure they will agree, as we all witnessed what happens when you have a sugar-high Lena, Hana, Lucio and Genji in one room.
10. Bastion's garden is now the designated time-out area. No fighting there. And if they decide to ask you for help gardening, help them.

Chapter End Notes

Chapters will now start coming slower, mostly because my main ideas have already been used, and because school is a pain.

Concerning current agents part 5:

Chapter Notes

Please comment your fav rule so far, I want to try to write quick explanations of why Winston had to implement each of those.

1. If Angela is eating gummy worms, do not ask her to feed you 'like a mama bird'.
2. Stop pissing off Sombra when she's hacking. When she gets mad she can't think straight, which causes her hacking to mess up which makes her even madder. I don't want to replace that many electronics at once ever again.
3. Stop asking Junkrat why he is always covered in soot. He likes to demonstrate why, and you'll be tasked with cleaning the scorch marks.
4. Stop stealing other agents' gear to dress up as them.
5. If you want to play with explosives, do it outside. I'm not even going to try to stop you anymore.
6. Just don't even go close to Hana's meka without her around. The last time Zarya leaned on it, she got stuck halfway sucked into it.
7. Whoever rigged the coms to play horror movie music whenever someone's awake at night will undo it.
8. Stop playing 'how many cans of energy drinks can you chug before you have to be dragged to Angela'. However, I place my bets on Hana winning whenever you do.
9. Injuries caused by a pulse bomb that Lena takes responsibility for using will cost you. I'm so tired of this. (idea suggested by: dudebladeX)
10. No civilians are allowed in our bases. This rule does not apply to Lena's girlfriend, Emily, only because she threatened to quit otherwise. (idea suggested by: dudebladeX)

Concerning current recruits part 6:

Chapter Notes

Thanks to all of your suggestions, I got this done early :3

Remember: Please comment your fav rule so far, I want to try to write quick explanations of why Winston had to implement each of those.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

1. There are no 'unofficial joining ceremonies' so stop organizing them.
2. There are no impromptu makeshift hallway obstacle courses/death traps rookies have to run. Rookies, do not believe what anyone says.
3. Mission reports are not to be filled out in haiku, limericks, or any other sort of poetry. Comics also don't count, however, I am impressed by the detail that came into illustrating an entire mission.
4. What Hana, Genji, or McCree consider a good idea is not necessarily a good idea in the eyes of everyone else.
5. Please refrain from challenging McCree, Hanzo, or Reinhardt to a drinking game. Any of these challenges will very likely result in your needing medical assistance due to alcohol poisoning.
6. Everyone likes to hear a joke now and then, but if it's so dirty that Genji or McCree would tell it, then don't even bother. We most likely heard it already. Kudos for trying.
7. Please stop joking 'shipping' people, especially those who are already in relationships. I think the time Fareeha almost broke Widowmaker's neck after someone spammed her with pictures of Widow and Angela chatting over tea (followed by implications I will not mention) is a lesson to all of us. (Idea suggested by BethCyra)
8. Asking Angela and Fareeha about their 'private lives' in the bedroom is none of your business (Yes, even you, Ana). If you ask one of them and get punched or yelled at, don't say that I didn't warn you. (Suggested by Sword_of_Artorias)
9. Actually, just stop asking ANYONE about their sex lives. Many of us don't want to know, and the rest of you are too eager to share. (Suggested by bzarcher)
10. Morrison will stop using all of his old passes and credentials to do whatever he wants on base without Athena warning me about it. (Idea suggested by sigmatimelord)

Chapter End Notes

Please comment your fav rule so far, I want to try to write quick explanations of why Winston had to implement each of those.

How the rules came to be:

Chapter Notes

Sorry for slow updates. It's exam time at my school. But I do have more fic ideas :3

1. Ana is the only person capable of approving team-building exercises. /I am taking back my previous statement. Ana can no longer approve team-building exercises. I am disappointed in you, Ana.

Winston was tired. Getting this bunch of ragtag soldiers to work together was hard, and after a week of failed team building exercises which all ended in varying degrees of chaos, he left the work to Ana. The old sniper would certainly know what to do, after all, she had been herding around the old team way back when. She had promised to instantly get them out of his hair so that he could have some peace for over ten minutes.

Eleven minutes later there was an explosion, a dozen alarms were blaring, and Winston watched as someone flew -fell- by his window. How anyone could take a dodgeball competition that far, he would never know.

2. If Angela is eating gummy worms, do not ask her to feed you 'like a mama bird'.

Winston was in the rec room, discussing better attack plans for future missions with Angela and Ana. The two healers, as they always kept behind the front lines, often had a better viewpoint on how to deal with any talon movements. The swiss doctor was currently only nodding along and not giving much input, her mouth full of gummy worms from the giant bag she was slowly emptying while she most likely tried to give herself a sugar rush to avoid the usual 48-hours-without-sleep crash. But something drew Winston's attention: Hana and Genji, whispering to each other and giggling. Before the scientist could wonder about the topic, Genji seemed to stand straighter.

"Hey, Angela!" He called out, making the doctor sleepily turn, the end of a gummy worm still hanging out from between her lips. "Would you feed me like a mama bird?" He continued in his most mock-seductive tone.

There was no time to blink as suddenly Angela lifted something, a shot echoed, and Genji collapsed like a puppet with its strings cut.

"Sorry for borrowing your sleep dart gun." The doctor stated as she gave the gun back to Ana, who was already walking towards Genji to take pictures, just like Hana.

3. McCree does not need a horse. He said so himself.

"Winston, they got me a horse." McCree deadpanned as he walked into the lab.

"I'm sorry?" Winston couldn't help but ask.

"Hana, Lúcio, Genji and Lena got me a horse because apparently, I need one to complete my cowboy look. I do not want it, by the way."

"And you are here because..."

McCree looked like he had seen the worst of horrors. "We really need help."

That's when horrified screams and furious whinnying echoed down the hall leading to the lab, followed by the hit of hooves against tile and even more terrified screams.

4. Reaper is to stop shadow-stepping behind people to scare them, especially if said people are playing horror games or watching horror movies. The amount of bullet holes in the watchpoint walls is alarming.

Five agents sat on the rec room couch in anxious silence and Genji made the game character creep down the hall. The newest game of Outlast had finally arrived, and Hana instantly got her gaming buddies to come play it with her, though she gave up 20 minutes in, in favor of clutching a pachimari to her chest.

“I think I just heard something.” Lúcio warned, making everyone flinch at the break of silence. The game character crept forward, looking around a corner.

“I think it’s safe.” Genji mumbled.

“Are you sure?” A rumbling growl resounded behind the group and five screams echoed before Reaper had to ghost to avoid a few sets of different ammo and one sonic blast.

5. No more anti-gravity dodgeball tournaments. Zarya why?

After failing to find any agent in the entirety of the watchpoint, Winston asked Athena for help and then had to hold back a surprised gasp. All agents, in the training hall, together, for over an hour? That was something that you could have told Winston only to have him laugh and ask about your mental health. He needed to see what was so important that it got everyone into training.

The first thing he registered as he walked through the training room doors was the fact that his feet no longer touched the ground, his whole body slowly floating up.

The second was the fearful gasps all around him as a dodgeball came flying full-speed at his face.

Concerning current agents part 7:

Chapter Notes

Sorry for lack of updates, but it's exam time and I rarely find the time to even brainstorm ideas. Might be updating more soon.

1. Zarya and Reinhard will stop their arm wrestling competitions. I'm not paying for a third broken table.
2. Stop the 'is yaint a word' discourse.
3. Stop trying to 'Make Zenyatta lose his Zen'. Genji says that just nuking the watchpoint would be a better idea.
4. Please, for the love of whatever's listening, no more nyan cat over the comms. I will blow this place sky-high if I hear it again this decade.
5. Morrison will stop using a golf club to throw his biotic canisters to heal at a distance. And if he still does it, he will stop aiming at people's heads. (Idea suggested by Sigmatimelord)
6. Zenyatta is not allowed to make anymore 'im too baller for ____' jokes as excuses not to do chores. (Suggested by Sigmatimelord)
7. Hana is to stop recalling her mech on top of other agents. Angela already has to deal with enough people besides flattened cowboys. (Suggested by Cariel)
8. Reaper will learn to use the goddamn DOOR! Stop wraithing and shadow stepping everywhere and using whatever that shadow shit is to get through vents or under door gaps into rooms. It scares people, and I'm so tired of fixing bullet holes in the Watchpoint walls! (Idea suggested by 2ea_tea)
9. Do not feed Ganymede anything but bird food. You might make her sick and we don't have a veterinarian on hand. If you do make her sick, not only will you pay for the vet, but also for all the repair costs of the times Bastion shot at something because worry is really not good for their wiring. (Suggested by CalamityCons)
10. The dragons incident is forbidden to be brought up, especially in front of the healers. God help you two if both of you dare bring it up to Angela. She WILL send Ana and Fareeha to hunt you two down. (Suggested by Sword_of_Artorias)

Concerning current agents part 8:

Chapter Notes

For this new chapter, say thanks to two commenters: Merchantman and RandomHumaaaaaan.

1. The briefing room is meant for briefings. Go play ping pong somewhere else.
2. Do not play chicken with the Orcas, Lena is our only fully qualified pilot who can pull off all kinds of stunts.
3. Phareeha is banned from the weekly food fight (why did you start that, Lena?) because she loaded pudding into her suit and yelled "Porridge rains from above!". Agents will be randomly selected to clean that up.
4. Stop asking Genji what weapons he can deflect, although I am impressed that he can redirect a fire strike with a sword.
5. Let me phrase it this way: unless you want your legs ripped off and shoved down your throat, refrain from touching my favorite glasses.
(Rules 1 to 5 suggested by Merchantman)
6. Never ever EVER again have a contest to see who can make the best sticky bomb. You have no idea how close Jamieson's room is to the medical lab, and I fear our medics with a vendetta more than all of you put together.
7. Hanzo must never invite Fareeha to a shooting contest, at least when they are using their mission weapons. Actually, none of you do that.
8. "I'm sure that if Mei freezes the bomb, it won't explode!" Were the worst and almost last words uttered by Genji. Do not repeat what he did.
9. We never want to hear the words "Nerf this!" if Jamison has been able to touch Hana's mech in the past week. Nor "Justice rains from above!". Actually, any explosives which he has altered, do not touch.
10. The fact that I call you our explosives expert, does not mean that you can set off explosives whenever you like, Jamison.
(Rules 6 to 10 suggested by RandomHumaaaaaan)

Concerning training:

Chapter Notes

Thank you all for the many comments. I think I now have enough for almost two whole chapters! But I'll try to pace posting them so that you don't get giant pauses with nothing whatsoever.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

1. Range time is a requirement. Trick shot competitions in the range are not.
2. Do not stand next to Zarya or Reinhardt and wonder out loud if they could lift something as they will take that as a challenge. I don't need a repeat of Zarya lifting me while bellowing "For mother Russia!"
3. If you want to move sometime in the next three days, do not ask Zarya or Reinhardt to supervise your training.
4. No surprise paintball wars. The clean-up lasts hours. All participants engaged in paintball warfare will have workouts supervised by Zarya for the next month.
5. No more playing Eye of the Tiger at the gym. Overenthusiasm has lead to several broken bones, a hole in a wall, burst lights and several cracked floor tiles.
6. You are free to experiment with different tactics. However whoever decided to see what would happen if you nano boosted Lena while she was blinking around while Lúcio amped up speedboost, is no longer allowed to voice any such ideas. It took a week to get Lena from wherever she went in time and space.
7. There is not an 'achievement list' for what kind of crazy stunts you must learn to pull off.
8. If you are planning on exchanging suits and armor, at least instruct the wearer on how to use them. I know Angela had a fun time watching everyone slam face-first into a wall when following Genji, but the concussions took a while to heal.
9. Lúcio is not to outfit everyone's gear with wall-riding skates.
10. "How long 'till you drop" is not a training regiment to ever be tried in the gym ever again.

Chapter End Notes

Okay, voting time: I have an idea for a fic: Sombra asks out an overwatch agent just to spite Reaps and Widow. Feelings ensue. But I can't decide who the agent should be: Zarya or Symmetra. So please vote. (You can also suggest someone you want)

Concerning current agents part 9:

Chapter Notes

I'm feeling great, there are so many suggestions, so here you all go!

See the end of the chapter for more notes

1. "It's High Noon!" Is a catchphrase, not a guideline/rule/regulation. Do not challenge McCree to an ultimate showdown at 10:30 pm or something thinking you'll be safe just because it's not actually 12 pm. Some of our healers like to sleep a little earlier than others, and they may just let you bleed out.
2. Actually, Ana, Mercy, and Zenyatta, please do not actually let those fools bleed out. And Lucio, please stop laughing at them for even trying.
3. Stop trying to break up Lena and Emily. I don't care if it messes your 'Widowtracer' ship, it's just mean.
4. Follow up to that previous one; Stop trying to get them in a polygamous relationship. I don't care if it 'fixes' your ship either.
5. NEVER enter Hana's room (or open her door) while the 'on air' sign is on. Hana WILL get payback for streambombing/screwing up her game regardless of your rank, and it WILL be painful. Lúcio however, is exempt from this rule. Hana likes him well enough.
6. Unless you want to be chased by a green dragon, do not interrupt Zenyatta's and Genji's Meditation time.
7. Do not ask whether a gun or bow and arrows are better.
8. Please stop trying to scare Zenyatta. One hole in the roof is enough
9. Who ever is banging pots and pans together in the kitchen middle of the night. Please stop others are trying to sleep.
10. (Correction to the previous rule) Genji and Zenyatta please stop fucking in the kitchen in the middle of the night. I'm very disappointed in you two.

Chapter End Notes

This chapters rules suggested by: CptDax, dudebladeX, Autoboty, Black_Arrow, Agvarina.

By the way: Symmetra won the vote! Published the first chapter already. Never wrote anything with actual narration, so I hope it goes well.

Concerning current agents part 10:

Chapter Notes

My vacation just started, so I'm posting this set early.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

1. Stop sending cosplayers to meeting points instead of going yourselves.
2. Be cautious when doing something with lasers. Apparently even dragons can't resist trying to catch a red dot. Except that, unlike cats, these can change size and strength and one has already barreled through a wall when it got frustrated with the laser.
3. If you hear weird bumps and chirps coming from the water pipes, go to Hanzo or Genji and tell them to lure their dragons back out. But don't shake a bag of treats. We don't need another hole in a wall.
4. To Angela and Fareeha: We all know how much you love each other but for the love of God, PLEASE fuck in your own bedroom instead of the briefing table and the especially the kitchen table. People eat there!
5. Any agent has my permission to destroy the radio if McCree plays any type of 'bro-country' music. Vintage country is an exception. He can play those.
6. Do not steal my peanut butter, you DO NOT want to see me angry. Learn from Reaper's experience. If you want PB that much, buy it from the store nearby.
7. Hana and Genji are not to cry like a baby when one of them loses against the other in a video game. For God's sake, both of you are adults! Especially you, Genji! You're 35!
8. Getting tattoos is fine. Angela has the healing aftercare provided if you have a fresh one. Doing your own tattoos, however, on other agents is unacceptable. Most of you are not trained in tattooing and it takes years to be a master at it. No matter how much you beg, Angela will not remove it because of your stupidity.
9. Don't try to recreate plants vs zombies with Bastion, his guns cannot be filled with peas, and I doubt they would be any less deadly.
10. Please do not tell Orisa that Zarya will like her more if she does something of your suggestion unless you actually have a good idea. And remember, what's a good idea for you might not be a good idea for everyone.

Chapter End Notes

Suggestions by: cascadedEquilibrium, Black_Arrow, Sword_of_Artorias, Merchantman, MoonPachimari

Concerning old entertainment:

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

1. No one is allowed to try and hang from the ceiling like a spider.
2. Do not ask Torbjörn to build a lifesize Jaeger. Do you remember what went down in Boklovo?
3. Don't stand next to Torbjörn or Efi and wonder out loud if it would be possible to recreate some gadget from some movie. They will take that as a challenge.
4. No trying to create lantern rings, iron suits, joker gas, the cosmic trend meal, black widow's gauntlets (widow bites), the lasso of truth, batman gadgets, cosmic cubes, or adamantium.
5. No imitating superheroes, Reaper keeps saying Batman and Phantasm quotes.
6. Stop singing Disney songs for hours on end, especially I wanna be like you
7. Hanzo is forbidden from trying to inmate Green Arrow or Hawkeye. He tried to cut a grape on someone's head from 20 feet away. Do you realize how lucky we are that he succeeded?
8. Lena is not allowed to find out if the speedforce exist.
9. Lena is banned from watching Flash. She gets ideas.
10. Stop playing Teen Titan Go. That is just torture. Even Talon would never play it.

Be prepared for slower updates because it's exam time.

For anyone in the french schooling system: le bac oral de francais est une merde complete, n'est ce pas vrai?

Chapter Notes

See the end of the chapter for notes

1. Please note that even if we have "unlimited ammo" (which still makes no sense to me), agents in populated areas such as Numbani, Kings Row, and the likes are advised NOT TO SHOOT or VANDALIZE unless absolutely necessary. (Seriously, I thought this was the one rule EVERYONE would follow)
2. Following the rule above: If you do, you are paying for the damages. (For the hundredth time, we are NOT made of gold.) If it just so happened that it was an accident, you only pay half of what you owe. And no, I do not accept coupons. Please stop giving those to me everytime this happens.
3. For any agent planning to play Barney/Dora songs over the comm, I will not be held responsible for any injuries you will receive from Lucio....and perhaps almost every agent except you (everyone just got over the Country fiasco, give us a break)
4. Agents are not allowed to blare bland pop music just to see who can last the longest listening to it. (Again, we just got over the Country fiasco)
5. As much as Agent Hanzo is talented, do not ask him to do the William Tell challenge unless you want two blue dragons chasing after you for questioning his skills.
6. Whoever is scattering dolls and puppets around the base after every horror movie, please stop. It's bad enough we have Reaper to deal with.
7. Agents Genji and Hanzo are not allowed near anything remotely sugary after 3 am unless you want a repeat of 'Every Anime: Abridged'.
8. Agents (especially Ana) are not allowed to shove people in the broom closet so that they will "confess their feelings" (Honestly, I can't keep cleaning up those messes unless somebody finally makes the formula for brain bleach).
9. Agents are advised to not interfere in a fellow agent's love life unless it is welcomed by said agent.
10. If you spot an unwanted insect and/or rodent, please be rational and DO NOT: shoot it with your mission weapons, nuke the base (yes, that almost happened after Hana's meka was 'upgraded' by Junkrat), or create some experimental bug spray. Use the bug spray provided under the kitchen sink. It's there for a reason, people.

Chapter Notes

I decided to start updating during weekends, so here's an extra chapter this week :)

See the end of the chapter for more notes

1. Stop asking McCree what time it is. He is very annoyed whenever one of you asks him that.
2. I take the above rule back. McCree, stop saying "It's High Noon" every time it's 12pm. This is why you keep getting asked: "What time is it?"
3. The training rooms and storage rooms are not places you are allowed to have sex in! We have enough agents scarred by the sight they were greeted with when they entered! (Reaper, Morrisson, McCree and Hanzo... This rule applies to you four specifically)
4. Sombra, please stop hacking Hana's consoles so you could win. Hana is very upset about this.
5. Never say 'What are you going to do? Kill me?' to Hanzo because he goes into a silent triggered state where it's hard to get him out of. When he does though he punches the person who just said that. This rule especially implies to you, Genji.
6. To whoever has changed Lúcio's battle playlists to 'Rick rolls' I do not pity you. But I do have to ask HOW!?
7. Do not cover your eyes when Reaper says "death comes". How many pellets dose Mercy have to remove before you people learn?
8. Do not threaten Athena! I remind you all that she has more information on you all then the most skilled blackmailing spy out there (Except maybe Sombra).
9. May I remind everyone (Ana, Reinhardt, Torbjörn), that in an event of a blackout "who stole my other eye" is NOT the appropriate response!
10. Stop asking Tracer about "timey-wimey" stuff and if she's actually The Doctor. She's begun to threaten dropping pulse bombs and blinking out of the room. She doesn't seem to mind being referred to as The Master though, for some reason.

Chapter Notes

It's Sunday, so it's time for a new chapter.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

1. Lena, Sombra, McCree, Ana, and Genji are not allowed to plan any more prank wars.
2. The Shimada brothers cannot have a "My boyfriend is better than yours" competition. Not only does it embarrass McCree and Zenyatta, but Hana is a very hardcore McHanzo shipper, and Lucio is a hardcore Genyatta shipper. They've been "recruiting shippers". Also, Bastion does not know what a ship is. Stop asking him.
3. STOP TEACHING EFI SWEAR WORDS! I WILL NOT BE THE ONE TO EXPLAIN TO HER MOTHER WHY SHE CAN SAY 'FUCK' IN A DOZEN LANGUAGES!!!!
4. Also, to the women on the team: stop telling her about the "horrors of puberty". I know Angela told her what to expect, but do not say "it's gonna look like a chainsaw ripped through your vagina".
5. Hanzo is banned from using sonic arrows during hide and seek, and Widowmaker is banned from using her goggles during hide and seek too. It's cheating.
6. Do not try to make Bastion remote controllable.
7. Reinhardt cannot charge down hallways just because "it's a shortcut".
8. Junkrat, I know the layout of the base may be confusing, but please refrain from blowing through the rooms to make your own path.
9. Do not try to recreate World of Tanks with Bastion vs several tanks. Those things cost millions to make, and that game has been dead for decades now. Do any of you even know to operate a tank?
10. Would Angela stop yelling "Guten tag, motherfuckers!" When she kills someone with her pistol? It's a little unnerving

By the way: If you have not yet seen your suggestions in here: do not worry, I have three whole chapter made only out of suggestions queued up. Your rules are most likely somewhere there.
